AHRC's International Strategy

The AHRC International Strategy aims are:

- To add value to our research by encouraging collaborations between UK researchers and the best researchers from around the world;
- To facilitate and support the movement of researchers to and from the UK
- To facilitate access to other funding sources, facilities and resources;
- To influence the international research agenda;
- To promote the UK as a world centre for research and innovation.

Priorities: Removing Barriers!

- To encourage and enable international collaboration where it will add value to research.
- Focus for the next three years on the development of research collaborations in four regions: Europe, India, China and USA.
- Priority to themes outlined in the delivery plan and on emerging strategic themes to be developed by Council

Recent Activities: International Partnerships

- Humanities in the European Research Area(HERA)
- Bilateral agreements/MoUs: Ireland, Germany, US, Japan, Korea, Taiwan, Nepal, Italy
- Co-REACH: Humanities and Social Sciences collaborative research between Europe and China (with ESRC and British Academy)
- Net-Heritage project
- ESF Eurocores
- Visiting scholarships

Influencing the international agenda

- Europe: FP7/FP8, ERC, ESF, other member states.
- Rest of the world: Work with RCUK and the Overseas offices when possible.
- Making sure that AHRC's priorities align with the European and international agenda.
- Making sure that the voice of UK Arts and Humanities is heard in the international arena.

Future Developments

- Embedding the international strategy in our core activities by opening some of the AHRC's schemes to international collaborations
- Collaborate with UK partners to avoid duplication of efforts
- Collaborate with RCUK and overseas offices
- (Re)Open discussion channels with potential partners in the priority areas.
